

Challenging Jobs & Career Perspectives

The company

The M-DAX-listed PFLEIDERER AG is an innovative and dynamic organization within the engineered wood industry. With our business centers Western Europe, Eastern Europe and Northern America we are one of the leading providers for engineered wood products, melamine faced chipboard and laminate. After the acquisition of the Kunz-Group in 2005 we work with more than 5.100 motivated employees at 19 production plants worldwide. For the business year 2006 we strive for a sales volume of approximately 1,4 billions Euro.

Your access to us

Those who want to achieve a great deal, need options. These options depend on individual skills, but also on identifying and taking chances. We make you familiar with the challenges of daily business and enable you to prove your ability to take responsibility for example in project teams and in international assignments e.g. in our Eastern European locations . You are working close to our executives as well as our managing board. This allows you to learn from their experiences and to hold a dialog, which helps you to assess situations and to take decisions.

Engineers (m/f) Manufacturing/Industrial Engineering / Wood Technology

Your tasks...

- Contribution to multi-location projects and first accountability in projects in the field of production and quality management in our German headquarters
- Support of the optimization and economization of our production processes at different locations (also in Eastern Europe)
- Implementation of defined improvements
- Support of the realization of international projects (for example in the buildup of new locations)

Your profile...

- Degree in an engineering discipline
- First practical experiences or major field of study in production / quality management and experiences in project work
- International / cross-cultural experiences preferably in Eastern Europe / Russia
- Good knowledge of German and Russian or another Eastern European language
- Flexibility and mobility as well as team spirit and communication skills
